What is most important right now?

Priority :
To spark lasting equity by igniting the learning of our vulnerable pupils —fueling ambitious outcomes alongside their peers and empowering them with the confidence, knowledge, and skills for future success.

Core Pillars

Pillar 1: Ignite the Learning

This pillar drives our commitment to educational equity with a focus on high-impact instructional excellence. By anchoring classroom practice in cognitive science and high-quality first teaching, we eliminate the barriers that hinder our most vulnerable learners. Every lesson is engineered for deep engagement and maximum clarity through precise scaffolding, targeted retrieval practice, and a strong focus on structured oracy to develop confident, articulate speakers. By making the implicit explicit, we dismantle learning anxieties and secure the foundational knowledge and communicative fluency necessary for vulnerable pupils to participate deeply and achieve ambitious outcomes alongside their peers. By focusing on high-quality classroom engagement and giving pupils a real voice, we will create an environment where children naturally aspire to want to be in school every day, treating attendance as a natural result of a joyful school life.

Pillar 2: Ignite the Profession

This pillar focuses on empowering our staff, transforming professional development into a dynamic catalyst for school improvement. By embedding our evidence-based coaching models, structured feedback loops, and robust support for subject leaders, we cultivate a high-performing culture of continuous, collaborative growth. This pillar focuses on investing heavily in staff expertise and research-informed practice across all key stages. By equipping our teachers and support staff with deep pedagogical clarity and specialised curriculum knowledge, we build the collective efficacy and confidence needed to masterfully deliver our equity strategy and unlock the full potential of every child.

The priorities within our strategic plan are driven and supported by a set of core pillars. Each pillar has a focused action plan, owned by our leadership team, with regular monitoring and review against clear progress measures —ensuring we stay on track and deliver meaningful impact across our school.
